Cockfield Road, Felsham, Bury St. Edmunds, Suffolk, IP30 0QP

General Information

The property occupies a lovely setting, hidden from the road and enjoying unspoilt views to the rear over open countryside. Located equidistant between the popular villages of Cockfield and Felsham, the property is also only 7.5 miles south east of Bury St. Edmunds, making it perfect for anyone wanting to enjoy semi-rural living whilst still being within easy reach of all amenities.

As previously mentioned, the property was built in 1969/1970 by a well known local architect and has been owned by the same family ever since - testament if needed to what a lovely house it has been to live in. The property has been extended on 2 occasions and has the benefit of electric ceiling heating and uPVC sealed unit glazing.

Whilst the house has been well maintained, it is now quite dated, making it something of a 'blank canvas'. In our opinion, the property could lend itself to being substantially extended (if required and subject to consent) and could easily become a very substantial home of significant value. The existing accommodation is around 2100 sq ft and if you add in the double garage and attic room the overall space is approximately 2700 sq ft.

On the ground floor: An entrance porch gives access to the reception hall which in turn gives access to the cloakroom, study, kitchen, dining room and dual aspect sitting room. There is a separate family room which has a semi-vaulted ceiling and a triple aspect enjoying views over the front, side and rear gardens. The kitchen/breakfast room leads into a large utility room and these spaces could potentially be joined to make one large kitchen/family space.

On the first floor: A spacious landing area with eaves storage cupboard, gives access to all 4 bedrooms and the family bathroom. The master bedroom is a particularly spacious room and includes a large en suite bathroom.

Outside

The property is set back well from the road behind mature shrubs and trees. A large driveway provides parking and turning for a number of cars and leads up to the double garage. The double garage is divided into 2 separate areas and includes a very useful room within the roof space. The room would be perfect as a home office or hobbies space.

To the side of the house is a large lawned garden affording a good degree of privacy and planted with a variety of shrubs and trees.

The gardens to the rear of the house are again of a very generous size and include a large timber workshop, summer house and greenhouse. The gardens back onto open countryside with far-reaching views.
