General Information

The property occupies a pleasant non-estate setting in the popular village of Great Barton. The village offers an extensive range of local amenities including a superb primary school, general store, church, public house and village hall. The historic market town of Bury St. Edmunds is less than 2.5 miles away, offering excellent shopping, recreational and educational facilities. The property is also well located for those requiring good access to the A14, which provides excellent links to Cambridge and London/Stansted Airport via the A11/M11.

The property is thought to have been built in the 1950s and since then the attic rooms have been added and the ground floor has been substantially extended. Having been much improved by the current owners, the accommodation, which is served by gas fired central heating and majority Upvc sealed unit glazing, offers a flexible layout making the property suitable for a wide range of buyers.

As is typical of properties of this era, the rooms are well proportioned and there is the benefit of good natural light, which is aided by an abundance of Velux style windows. The dining room features a large bay window and the sitting room has an impressive vaulted ceiling, built-in gas fire and french doors leading out to the rear patio. The kitchen/breakfast room is well appointed with plenty of space for a table and there is a good-sized separate utility room, WC and bathroom. Both ground floor bedrooms are double in size, one having french doors leading onto a small paved courtyard patio. On the first floor, there is a good-sized double bedroom, a single bedroom and bathroom. In our opinion, this spacious property makes a superb family home and viewing is highly recommended.

Outside

As previously stated, the property is set within a generous plot which we understand from our vendor is in the region of 1/2 an acre (STS).

The gardens to the front of the bungalow are of open plan design, laid mainly to lawn with mature shrubs. A driveway to the side of the property leads to a large parking area and a double garage, which has power and light connected and incorporates a workshop and potting shed.

The large rear gardens are perfect for a growing family, with extensive space for trampolines, climbing frames and paddling pools. There are a variety of specimen shrubs and trees together with a small separately fenced off "meadow" area at the rear. The fully fenced garden provides excellent levels of screening and privacy"
