General Information

The property occupies a pleasant non-estate village setting, close to open countryside and within easy reach of local amenities. Great Barton is a much sought after village and offers an extensive range of local amenities including a superb primary school, general store, church, public house and village hall.

The bungalow is also within easy reach of Thurston which has a wider range of facilities including a railway station. The historic market town of Bury St. Edmunds is around 3 miles away (10 minutes in the car) and offers excellent shopping, recreational and educational facilities.

The Laurels is thought to have been built in the late 1950's and, as is typical of homes of this era, provides well-proportioned rooms with lots of natural light. The property has been well maintained by the present owners however potential now exists for some updating.

Whilst the bungalow is already of a good size it is worth noting that the attic space is quite large and would be suitable for conversion (subject to consent) to provide a number of first-floor rooms. The existing accommodation benefits from oil-fired central heating and uPVC sealed unit glazing.

Outside
The property is set back well from the road behind low walling and mature hedging. A driveway provides extensive parking and turning for a number of cars and gives access to the large single garage and carport. The main gardens are formed to the side and rear of the bungalow and include a patio area, large lawn. range of timber outbuildings and a wide variety of shrubs, trees and fruit trees.
