The Agent that goes the Extra Mile

Located along a no-through road within a small cluster of properties at Priskilly, The Old Farmhouse is a charming end-terrace farmhouse believed to date back approximately 250 years. Full of character and individuality, the property retains a wealth of original and unspoilt features, offering a wonderful blend of historic charm and cosy cottage appeal.

The accommodation is centred around an open plan living room/kitchen, featuring a woodburning stove set within an impressive inglenook fireplace, complemented by exposed beams, exposed stonework, slate flooring and a traditional Belfast sink, all combining to create a warm and characterful living space. The ground floor also benefits from a bathroom fitted with a small bath.

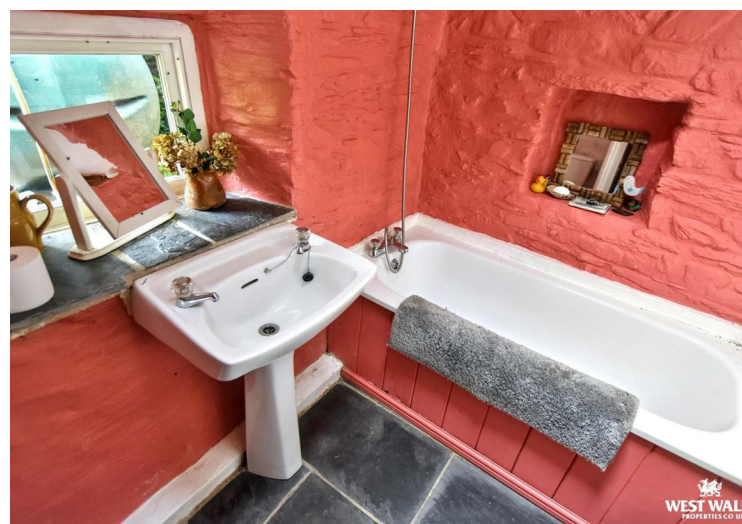

Steps lead to the first floor where a further living area enjoys a vaulted ceiling, distinctive three-step chimney breast feature and Velux window, adding to the unique charm of the home. Doors lead through to the two bedrooms.

Further benefits include oil-fired central heating and in-keeping sash windows which complement the property's traditional style.

Externally, the property enjoys a delightful garden to the rear, substantial in size, measuring approximately 0.66 acres. The garden is mainly laid to lawn with a South facing patio seating area leading directly from the back door, creating an ideal space to relax and enjoy the peaceful surroundings. The garden connects to a large area of grass and shrubs with a useful shed and ample private parking.

Offered for sale with no onward chain, this is a rare opportunity to acquire a characterful home in a tucked-away rural setting.
