A rare opportunity to purchase an exceptional and historic property in the heart of the popular coastal town of Burry Port. It is thought that the 3rd Earl of Ashburnham (1760 - 1830) built Ashburnham House (43 Elkington Road) around the same time or just after he built Pembrey House in 1820. The Earls of Ashburnham were prominent landowners in the area, whose influence significantly shaped the landscape and industry. Ashburnham House is where traditional character features mix with modern living. Situated on a 0.42-acre plot, Ashburnham House boasts spacious living accommodation, five bedrooms, two with en-suites, and another bonus: a two-bedroom self-contained annexe to the rear, as well as ample parking and a detached garage. Asburnham House is ideal for anyone looking for flexible accommodation, such as a mixed-generational family. EPC RATING C. COUNCIL TAX BAND F.

Accommodation comprises: a hallway, dining room, lounge with log-burner and beautiful bay windows, cloakroom, sitting room, spacious kitchen with phaneritic granite worktops and a kitchen island with power points, leading into a spacious orangery/family area, second sitting room, and utility. A door from the utility leads into a self-contained annexe comprising two bedrooms, a spacious wet room, an open-plan lounge, a kitchen/breakfast room, and a snug (sitting room). The first floor features five bedrooms, two en-suite bathrooms, two dressing rooms, and a family bathroom. Externally, the property sits on a plot measuring 0.42 acres, with an enclosed frontage and a driveway to the side, providing gated access to the rear garden. Enclosed rear garden with a spacious double garage with water and power connected and WC, large patio area with pergola and then the remainder is laid to level lush-green lawn. Privately owned solar panels with a Tesla Powerwall 3 battery.
