The Agent that goes the Extra Mile

A fantastic opportunity to purchase this two-bedroom terraced property in the sought-after location of Carmarthen Town, close to local amenities and with excellent transport links.

The property was built around 1800, with the row of terraces originally serving as drovers' accommodation for an adjacent inn. They were later converted into a row of charming terraced cottages when a first floor was added, giving the homes their character and historical appeal.

The house would suit a wide range of buyers, whether you are looking for an investment, taking your first steps onto the property ladder, or seeking a home with everyday amenities within walking distance — this property truly has it all. Viewing is highly recommended to fully appreciate the finish, character, and convenient location of this wonderful home.

The property briefly comprises a living room and a kitchen, installed in 2023, which opens into a dining area with a door leading out to the rear garden. Upstairs offers two bedrooms and a family bathroom, also installed in 2023.

Externally, the property benefits from a rear garden with a patio area, perfect for alfresco dining. Steps lead up to a lawned area and an additional seating space, offering a wonderful opportunity to create your own ideal spot to relax or establish some beautiful flower beds.

The County town of Carmarthen lays claim to being the oldest town in Wales, boasting a strong Roman heritage dating back to AD c75. Situated on the River Towy eight miles north of its mouth at Carmarthen Bay, the town is the location of the headquarters of Dyfed Powys Police, the Carmarthen Campus of The University of Wales, Trinity Saint David and The West Wales General Hospital. The town is well served by numerous primary schools and two secondary schools offering education through the medium of Welsh and English.
