Property Summary

 Guide Price £290,000 - £300,000 ***

Set back from the road with a good-sized rear garden, this extended three bedroom home on Waterloo Road offers far more space and storage than you might expect. The upstairs accommodation benefits from a flying freehold over the alleyway, giving extra width to the bedrooms, while the ground floor enjoys a generous kitchen/diner overlooking the garden and a surprisingly large walk-in storage room off the lounge – big enough for a fridge-freezer and much more. With side access to the garden via the alleyway and a well-kept interior, it's an ideal family home.

Property Overview

Step in through the porch into a welcoming hallway which leads through to a bright, comfortable lounge, finished in neutral tones and with space for a large sofa and media unit. A door from here opens into the full-height storage room – a genuinely useful additional space with natural light, perfect as a walk-in pantry, utility area or general store. To the rear, the open kitchen/diner runs the full width of the house, providing plenty of worktop and cupboard space, room for a family dining table and a pleasant outlook onto the garden, making it the natural hub of the home.

Upstairs, the landing serves three bedrooms and the family bathroom. The main bedroom spans almost the entire width of the house and includes fitted wardrobes, the size of this room is only possible due to that extra depth provided by the flying freehold above the alleyway. Bedroom two is another comfortable double, while bedroom three makes an ideal child's room, home office or dressing room. The family bathroom is a real surprise, offering far more space than you'd expect in this style of home. There is ample room to reconfigure as a full four-piece suite if desired, and the former boiler cupboard (currently used for additional storage) could be removed to make this already generous room even more spacious. Bathrooms of this size are rarely seen in comparable properties.

Outside, the alleyway gives handy gated access straight into the rear garden, so muddy boots, bikes or bins don't need to come through the house. The garden itself is a lovely, enclosed space with a mix of patio and lawn, mature planting, space for outdoor furniture and a timber shed, a great spot for summer barbecues or a quiet evening drink.

About The Area

Waterloo Road sits in a well-established residential part of Sittingbourne, tucked between the town centre and the A2. From the front door you're within easy reach of everyday amenities: local shops, takeaways and convenience stores along nearby roads, plus the wider choice of supermarkets, cafés and high-street names in the town centre. Sittingbourne mainline station is also accessible from here, offering regular services to London Victoria, St Pancras International and the Kent coast, making this a practical spot for commuters as well as local workers.

Families are well served for schooling, with several primary and secondary options in the area. Nearby choices include South Avenue Primary School and St Peter's Catholic Primary School, with Borden Grammar School, Fulston Manor and other secondary schools in the wider town. (As always, buyers are advised to check individual catchments and admissions directly with the schools.)

Leisure wise, you're well placed to enjoy both town and countryside. Milton Creek Country Park, local play areas and sports facilities are all a short drive away, while the A2 and A249 link quickly to the M2, Medway towns and the coast. It's a location that balances convenience, community and access to green space, which is why this corner of Sittingbourne continues to appeal year after year.
