Situated within a quiet and highly regarded residential estate on the outskirts of the semi-rural village of Kingsley, this beautifully extended semi-detached bungalow offers deceptively spacious and versatile accommodation, perfectly suited to a variety of purchasers seeking peaceful village living with excellent practicality.

The property is approached via a covered entrance porch leading into a welcoming entrance hall. At the heart of the home is a charming traditional pine fitted kitchen offering a range of fitted units and integrated appliances, combining character with everyday functionality. The generously proportioned lounge creates a warm and inviting atmosphere, centred around an attractive wooden fireplace, while an open archway flows effortlessly into the dining area, providing an ideal space for family gatherings and entertaining alike.

An inner hallway leads to the well-proportioned principal bedroom and shower room, whilst stairs rising from the dining area give access to two further bedrooms, both benefiting from useful under-eaves storage and offering flexible accommodation for guests, hobbies or home working.

Externally, the property enjoys excellent kerb appeal with a driveway extending from the road, providing ample off-road parking and access along the side of the property. The attractive front and rear gardens have been thoughtfully designed for low-maintenance living, with gravelled areas complemented by established flower and shrub borders that add colour, greenery and privacy throughout the seasons. The enclosed rear garden offers a particularly pleasant space to relax and unwind, making this a wonderful home both inside and out.
