Location

The picturesque village of Woodchester is nestled within the beautiful Cotswold countryside, perfectly positioned between the thriving market towns of Stroud and Nailsworth. Renowned for its charming character, rolling hills and scenic walking routes, the village offers a wonderful balance of rural tranquillity and everyday convenience. The nearby Woodchester Park, with its lakes, woodland walks and the iconic Woodchester Mansion, provides an abundance of opportunities for outdoor recreation and nature lovers alike.

Within the village itself, residents benefit from a range of local amenities including a well-regarded primary school, two welcoming public houses, a village shop with Post Office, and the historic parish church, all contributing to a strong sense of community. Opposite the property the cycling and walking path offers both access to Stroud and Nailsworth, the market town of Stroud, approximately two miles away, offers an extensive range of independent shops, cafés, restaurants, supermarkets and leisure facilities, together with a mainline railway station providing direct services to London Paddington, Cheltenham and Gloucester. The popular town of Nailsworth, just over two miles away, is equally renowned for its vibrant high street, artisan shops, eateries and annual community events. For those commuting further afield, Junction 13 of the M5 motorway is approximately six miles away, providing excellent road links to Gloucester, Cheltenham, Bristol and the wider motorway network.
