

ESK, Courtlands Road, Eastbourne, East Sussex, BN22 8TR

Development Site comprising approximately 2.8 acres Possible Residential Consent or Mixed Use Scheme (STPC)

This site is located in the Roselands area of Eastbourne approximately 1 mile distant from the main town centre. The area has a number of commercial premises but is also surrounded by a substantial residential estate.

This site of approximately 2.8 acres includes a main retail warehouse building currently occupied by the owner and partially sub-let as a garden centre with external area. The main building comprises approximately 31,000 ft.² of trading space. There is a further retail warehouse building comprising an additional 3500 ft.² of trading space. Externally there is a substantial car park with further development potential.

The site has been with the same owner for 25 years, and is coming to the market due to retirement.

Eastbourne is a popular south coast seafront town with a rising population in excess of 100,000 and a substantial commercial business base which is currently under expansion with further developments in sovereign harbour and on the outskirts of this and adjoining towns. The town benefits from good road communications via the A/M 27 and access to London via the A 22 as well as the main line railway station with a regular service to London Victoria approximately 90 minutes. Legal and General are currently commencing a refurbishment/redevelopment to Eastbourne's principal Arndale shopping centre in the town which incorporates 170,000 ft.² (£85 million extension) and will include an additional 22 shops and a nine screen cinema. Eastbourne Borough Council are also shortly to invest a further £40 million refurbishing the Devonshire Park complex to include additional facilities for the annual renowned ladies'/gent's tennis event.
