An increasingly rare opportunity to acquire the freehold interest in a detached block comprising four self-contained residential flats occupying a substantial site in one of West London's fastest evolving residential markets.

The sale includes the entire freehold together with the existing building, presenting purchasers with a range of medium and long-term opportunities, subject to obtaining the necessary planning consents.

Whether as a long-term investment, an asset management opportunity or a redevelopment project, the property occupies a highly accessible location within easy reach of West Drayton Elizabeth Line Station, Heathrow Airport and the wider motorway network.

Development Potential

The existing block occupies only part of the overall site, with generous surrounding land creating potential for future redevelopment or intensification, subject to the necessary planning consents.

Purchasers may wish to investigate opportunities including:

- Comprehensive residential redevelopment
- Extension or reconfiguration of the existing building
- Additional residential units
- Asset management and refurbishment
- Alternative residential-led schemes

(All subject to planning.)

Approximate distances include:

West Drayton Elizabeth Line Station — approximately 0.5 miles
