The Location

Located in the south of the rural county of Shropshire, Clun is a place steeped in history with the remains of a Norman castle, the town hall museum and the 15th century, famous Clun Bridge, just to mention a select few. The town offers plenty of useful facilities including a primary school, a SPAR convenience store with post office, a hair salon, antique shops, a tea room, a number of small business including a business park, a doctors surgery, a fire station, a community centre with a play park, a church, a community hall and 2 public house's called the The Sun Inn & The White Horse, which both offer wonderful home cooked meals as well as a wide selection of locally produced ales and ciders. You will also be able to enjoy the various groups and activities available in the village hall every week or soak up the local culture at one of the number of small festivals carried out in Clun throughout the year including the Green Man festival in May, the Clun Open Gardens in June, the Clun Carnival and Show at the beginning of August and the Clun Valley Beer Festival which takes place in the six open pubs in the valley (from Anchor to Aston on Clun) in October.

Situated within the most stunning countryside setting, Clun is a great place for you to invite visitors to, especially those of an active disposition owing to the famous Offas Dyke trail which runs to the west of the town and as a result presents a variety of outdoor pursuits and is popular with walkers and cyclists. Rural, but by no means isolated Clun is centrally located just 6 miles from the larger market town of Bishops Castle, 7 miles from the border town of Knighton and 9 miles from the town of Craven Arms.
