The Property

Introducing The Long Barn, which is an exciting opportunity to acquire a partly renovated barn conversion located just outside the semi-rural Shropshire village of Llanfairwaterdine within the picturesque Teme Valley, just 5 miles from the popular market town of Knighton (Tref-Y-Clawdd).

Llanfairwaterdine is a small, but close knit and very friendly community, which embraces the 'laid back' lifestyle and is situated right on the Welsh/English border. Lovingly restored thus far, The Long Barn offers the unique chance for new owners to add their own personal stamp and finish to the project while avoiding the laborious and expensive early stages of the development.

Designed by local architects Inklines, planning permission was obtained for a spacious 3/4 bedroom property complete with 3 reception rooms, 2 bathrooms, south-facing gardens, off road parking and stunning views across the surrounding countryside. Available with no upward chain, once complete, The Long Barn will no doubt present a pleasant blend of contemporary and period features from double glazed windows and solar roof panels to exposed timer beams and stonework throughout. Designed with spacious living in mind, the property will offer an upside-down layout with a full ceiling height entrance hall, utility, shower room and 4 bedrooms with en-suite to master on the ground floor, while the first floor accommodates a gallery landing, kitchen, dining room, W.C, study and living room.

As you can see from the photographs, extensive work is still required to finish off the project, however a lot of hard work and money has already gone into the development by the owners using quality materials and reputable local tradesmen. Works completed thus far include the re-pointing of exterior stonework, exterior cladding, the new slate roof, the foundations and overall groundworks, new windows and external doors and the installation of both the ground and first floors, along with first fix stud wall partitions, all just to mention a select few. Electricity and water connections are already established at the property, however new owners will need to install heating and drainage systems.

The Location

If you are looking for a rural retreat without the headache of being too far from town facilities, then The Long Barn offers the best of both worlds with the beautiful Shropshire/Mid-Wales countryside surrounding the property and nearby village of Llanfairwaterdine, while conveniently being approx. 5 miles away from the border town of Knighton (Tref-Y-Clawdd) with its vibrant main street hosting a variety of local groceries, retail shops and family run businesses.

Overall, Knighton offers a good amount of facilities and services including a supermarket, a nursery/primary school, a railway station, a post office, a variety of sports clubs which includes a golf course, a builders merchants, regular bus routes, a selection of public houses, cafés and restaurants, a leisure centre/swimming pool, a livestock market, a butchers and a bakery, plus much more.

The town features a fortnightly 'farmers market' at the local community centre and also benefits from having a thriving artistic community including The Writers Group, a number of painters, art galleries, potters, craftsmen and a light entertainment society. Still a thriving market town spearheaded by local organisations, Knighton is a peaceful town offering breath taking, picturesque scenery and fully accommodates the laid back, relaxed lifestyle that many potential purchasers will be looking for. Described as the 'The Gateway to Wales' this market town is situated on the English/Welsh border. Mostly in Powys, partly in Shropshire it lies on the River Teme and is surrounded by hills giving the traveller a glimpse of the more remote areas accessible nearby.

The towns Welsh name is Tref-Y-Clawdd meaning "Town on the Dyke". This is a reference to Offa's Dyke, which runs through the town, built by the Saxon King of Mercia to define his border with Wales. Every year hundreds of tourists and walkers visit the Dyke (which in its entirety runs from Prestatyn to Chepstow) and the Offa's Dyke Centre adding a real vibe to the town during the Spring, Summer and Autumn months. While here, other attractions that visitors to the town often call upon is the famous Space Guard Centre, which offers people the chance to view the wonders of the universe in a fun and understandable way while also raising public awareness of the threat of asteroid and comet impacts and the ways in which they can predict and prevent them. Larger towns near to Knighton are the medieval market town of Ludlow, 16 miles East, and the Victorian Spa town Llandrindod Wells, 19 Miles South West. Both are easily accessible via road or rail links and offer further recreational, educational and leisure facilities.
