Stepping into the property, you firstly step into a large, side entrance porch/sun room which is a perfect place to take off your wet boots and coats before entering the main house. You are then greeted by a central hallway with stairs rising to the first floor and access through to the principal ground floor rooms. The living room is a fantastic space, with windows allowing natural light to flood in. A feature fireplace with wood burning stove creates a lovely focal point, making this a room that works perfectly all year round – cosy in the winter and bright and airy in the summer months. To the front, the dining room is a superb second reception space, ideal for entertaining or family gatherings. With its bay-style window and pleasant outlook, it offers a more formal feel while still maintaining a warm and inviting atmosphere. The kitchen is well laid out and practical, fitted with a range of wall and base units and offering good workspace. With direct access out to the garden, it's perfectly positioned for day-to-day living. Off the inner hallway is a useful utility room, along with a ground floor cloakroom/WC and additional store room, adding to the practicality of the home.

The first floor continues to impress, offering three well-proportioned double bedrooms. The main bedroom is a particularly generous room, with fitted storage and a lovely outlook over the surrounding countryside – a peaceful and relaxing space to start and end the day. Bedrooms two and three are both comfortable doubles, each enjoying plenty of natural light and views, making them ideal for family, guests or even a home office if required. Completing the accommodation is a family bathroom, fitted with a modern suite including bath and separate shower, finished in a clean, contemporary style. Properties offering this combination of space, setting and potential are always in strong demand, and with the added benefit of no upward chain, this one is ready and waiting for its next chapter.
