The front door opens into an entrance hall with stairs rising to the first floor and a useful downstairs WC.

Outside, the rear garden is enclosed and laid mainly to lawn with space to sit out and enjoy the open outlook beyond. It is a manageable, private space suited to everyday use. Parking is available to the front of the property.

The Location

Trefeglwys is a small, welcoming village set in the scenic Trannon Valley in Mid Wales. Surrounded by rolling countryside, it's a place that offers a slower pace of life, ideal for those looking to enjoy the outdoors, raise a family, or settle into a more peaceful routine.

The village is home to a well-regarded primary school, a community hall hosting multiple local groups and activities, village playground, places of worship, and The Red Lion; a friendly local pub.

Just outside the village is Meadow Springs Country & Leisure Park, which recently won "Best Caravan, Camping, Glamping" category at the National Tourism Awards organised by the Welsh Government and Visit Wales. Meadow Springs features Arthur's Restaurant & Bar - an extremely popular new hospitality venue.

For anyone interested in pursuing outdoor activities the opportunities are endless. Trefeglwys is under 6 miles from the Llyn Clywedog Dam, a 615 acre reservoir built on the head waters of the river Severn in the late sixties, offering scenic walking and cycling routes as well as trout fishing through the local Angling Club.

The beautiful neighbouring Mid Wales town of Llanidloes has much to offer residents and visitors alike. It is home to the iconic Market Hall which is the oldest timber-framed market hall still in situ in Wales.

The town itself is packed with amenities including a dentists, Medical Centre, cottage hospital, Primary School, Secondary School with Welsh and English language streams, pubs, cafes, take-aways and a wide range of shops ranging from butchers / fishmongers / bakeries / greengrocers to an independent book shop and artisanal boutiques.

Trefeglwys is also close to Caersws with a Train Station and links to Bus Routes.

Trefeglwys combines rural charm with access to high-quality leisure facilities, all within a close-knit and friendly community—making it a great place to call home.
