Summary

A most charming, deceptively spacious, three/four bedroom, period terrace cottage located in a prominent position in the heart of Repton village.

The property requires a full internal inspection to appreciate the accommodation on offer and the sizeable plot on which the property stands, with a rear garden extending to close to 200 foot in length and backing on to an attractive brook.

Internally, the property retains much original character and comprises entrance hall, dining room with dual aspect log burner to lounge, conservatory and quality fitted kitchen. The first floor accommodation features a spacious open plan landing which doubles up as a lounge and could easily be converted into a bedroom plus three further bedrooms and a bathroom.

The property features on-road parking and has, as previously mentioned, a sizeable rear garden which is mainly laid to lawn and gently slopes down to the brook. There is a terrace/patio immediately off the conservatory, herbaceous borders with mixed hedging, two useful outbuildings and further potential to develop at the foot of the garden adjacent to the brook.

The Location

The historic village of Repton, noted for its famous public school, is a highly desirable South Derbyshire village. There is a bustling high street with amenities including a village shop, St Wystan's primary school, popular pubs, architect, further primary school and delightful walks in the surrounding open countryside. Neighbouring Willington combines to offer a further range of amenities including canal side walks and train station. There is easy access to the A38 and A50.
