HUTTON CRANSWICK

Originally two villages, Hutton and Cranswick, that grew and merged into Hutton Cranswick, a large rural village just three miles south of Driffield on the A164, an ideal area for commuters as the village also has its own railway station on the Scarborough to Hull line. There is a large village green with a picturesque duck pond in the centre of the village, two pubs offering accommodation and food, shops, a primary school and St Peters Church, a delightful Grade II listed building. There is also a farm shop, a garden centre, a popular sports area and well used village hall.
