113 Winsbury View, Marksbury, Bath, BA2 9HP

A delightful light and bright terraced home situated in the charming village of Marksbury. Ideally positioned within the village, the property enjoys a peaceful setting away from the main road.

Accessed via a shared pathway, the home opens into a spacious and welcoming hallway. The interior is neutrally decorated throughout, creating a fresh and versatile living space. To the front of the property, the kitchen offers ample storage and space for a dining table, making it both practical and sociable. To the rear, a light-filled and generously sized sitting room overlooks the garden, providing a relaxing space to unwind.

Upstairs, the first floor comprises three well proportioned bedrooms along with a neatly presented family bathroom.

The rear garden has been designed for low maintenance and features a brick-built shed, ideal for storing garden furniture, bicycles, or additional equipment.

This is a truly appealing home and is offered with no onward chain, making it an excellent opportunity for a smooth and straightforward purchase.

Nestled in the gently rolling Somerset countryside just a few miles southwest of Bath, Marksbury is a quintessential English village. Surrounded by green fields, hedgerows, and farmland, it offers a peaceful rural lifestyle while remaining conveniently close to nearby towns and the city of Bath.

Nestled in the gently rolling countryside of Somerset, just a few miles southwest of Bath, Marksbury is a small, traditional English village that captures the quiet charm of rural life. Surrounded by green fields, hedgerows, and farmland, it offers a peaceful retreat while remaining conveniently close to larger towns and cities.

At the heart of the village stands the historic St Peter's Church, a striking medieval building with a distinctive tower that has served as a focal point for the community for centuries. Its architecture and setting reflect the deep rooted history of the area, with Marksbury itself dating back to at least the Domesday Book.

The village is primarily residential, made up of a mix of period cottages, farmhouses, and more modern homes. Agriculture has long shaped the character of the area, and the surrounding land is still actively farmed, contributing to the tranquil and scenic landscape.

Despite its small size, Marksbury has a close-knit and welcoming community. Local amenities include a village hall and a well regarded primary school, making it appealing for families seeking a quieter lifestyle. For wider services, residents often travel to nearby towns such as Keynsham or Bath.

Marksbury also benefits from its proximity to major routes, including the A39, providing easy access to Bristol and the surrounding region. This makes it an attractive location for commuters who want to balance rural living with urban convenience.
