A wonderful detached Grade II Listed former farmhouse with adjoining barns and garden studio situated in the heart of a pretty Suffolk village.

Situated in an attractive location within a Conservation Area in the centre of this well-regarded village, this beautifully presented and much-improved Grade II Listed former farmhouse dates back to the 18th century, possibly with earlier fragments, and built of traditional timber-frame construction with lime-washed rendered elevations underneath a clay pantile roofline.

The house provides stunning accommodation displaying a wealth of original features coupled with a tasteful colour palette which as a result, creates a wonderful house of warmth and character offering a surprising level of spacious accommodation extending to about 2400 sq.ft complemented by an excellent range of outbuildings and beautiful gardens backing onto paddocks.

The accommodation is arranged over two floors and comprises an elegant sitting room with inglenook fireplace housing wood-burning stove, fine exposed timbers and studwork, a double aspect dining room enjoying an east-west orientation with red-brick inglenook fireplace, and leading on to a kitchen with Shaker-style painted units, solid oak worktops and pantry. The western wing of the house comprises snug with an extensive range of shelving and storage, with exposed brick floors, leading on to a side hall with ground-floor shower room, large storage cupboard and utility room with further storage.

The first floor is sub-divided, with staircases leading to both sides, with the three lovely bedrooms accessed from a large landing, as well as a large family bathroom. The second staircase from the side hall leads to a fabulous further double bedroom with a large range of wardrobes and a luxurious newly created en-suite shower room, completing the immaculately presented accommodation.

Outside

Adjoining the property is a useful range of outbuildings/barns which could potentially be incorporated into the existing house, subject to the usual consents, but equally could be home to an artist's studio or office.

The front gardens are bordered by wrought-iron railing and a variety of established shrubs and flower beds, with parking to the side and 5-bar gate leading to the gardens to the rear.

Adjoining the house is a large terrace seating area enjoying views over the paddocks beyond and the beautifully kept, mature rear gardens, with a variety of flowering beds, hedging and shrubbery, as well as a feature pond, kitchen garden and superb home office/studio with terrace and power and light connected.
