'The Rowans' is an impressive and substantial, detached period property which has since been converted into four 'mansion style' apartments, situated on what is widely considered to be one of Lewes' premier roads within the highly sought after Walland's area. This particular two/three bedroom, two level apartment is arranged over the first and second floors and is offered with the rare and added benefit of an allocated parking space and a balcony. The property benefits from a share of the freehold and a 999-year lease. A recent £50,000 refurbishment of the building has been undertaken. 40% of the £200 a month service charge goes into the building sinking fund protecting owners in the future.

This delightful home is neutrally decorated and retains many features synonymous with the architectural era in which the property was built, including a bay window and decorative ceiling corning in the living room, oak flooring, high ceilings and fireplaces in part. A freshly decorated communal hallway with stained glass windows and grand staircase leads to the front door on the first floor. This opens into the entrance hall with a door to a private balcony enjoying views towards the Sussex countryside beyond.

Of particular note to this apartment is the 16 ft living room which centres around a feature fireplace and has a bay window which allows the space to be flooded with natural light. The modern eat-in kitchen has masses of storage, modern units in a white gloss with maple wood surfaces and a 900mm hob and oven, a Butlers sink and space for appliances. Also on this floor is the 12 ft master bedroom with a feature fireplace, fitted cupboard and a pair of secondary glazed windows affording views over the treetops as well as a light filled family bathroom with a white suite. The apartment benefits from natural light on three sides.

Stairs ascend to the upper floor from the entrance hall and lead to a 15 ft 'walk through' bedroom with a door opening to the second bedroom/ ideal study space with fitted wardrobes and elevated countryside views. The property further benefits from loft storage, gas central heating throughout and an allocated off-street parking space for one car located to the front of the building.
