A well-positioned two-bedroom detached bungalow on a generous corner plot, offering spacious accommodation and wraparound gardens. Improved with multiple internal upgrades, alongside solar panels and a resin driveway, with scope to extend if required. Within a short walk of the village shop and train station, viewings are essential.

The Property

On entering, a generous and well-balanced reception hall sits at the centre of the home, providing access to all principal rooms, with useful built-in storage and access to a part-boarded loft via a drop-down ladder. The living room is a notably bright and well-proportioned space, with windows to two elevations drawing in natural light throughout the day, centred around a multi-fuel stove which provides a clear focal point.

The kitchen has been updated with contemporary base and wall units, offering good storage and practical work surfaces, alongside a range of fitted appliances. There is space for a small dining table, making it well suited for day-to-day use, with a door and window opening directly to the side garden.

Both bedrooms are comfortable doubles, each capable of accommodating a full range of furniture, and both enjoying south-facing aspects over the gardens, allowing for a particularly pleasant outlook and natural light. The accommodation is completed by a modern shower room, fitted with a step-in shower, wash hand basin, WC, storage cabinetry and a window to the side elevation.

Externally, the gardens have been thoughtfully designed and well maintained, reflecting time and care in their layout. They wrap around the property and incorporate a wide variety of perennial and biennial planting, alongside established herbaceous borders, creating interest and colour across the seasons. There are also productive fruit and vegetable areas, as well as a defined working section for those with a keen interest in gardening. A gated entrance leads to a golden marjorum lined pathway which approaches the front door.

For parking, there is a resin driveway providing ample space for multiple vehicles, leading to a single garage. The property also benefits from the installation of solar panels, contributing to improved energy efficiency and offering the potential for ongoing financial return.

The setting is particularly convenient, with the village shop, post office and train station all within a short walk, making it well suited for buyers seeking both accessibility and a manageable day-to-day lifestyle.
