LOCATION

Weston Super Mare is a popular seaside town located on the Bristol Channel coast of North Somerset situated approximately 18 miles (29 km) south-west of Bristol and has a population of approximately 80,000 people. The town has a long history as a popular holiday destination, with a sandy beach that stretches for over two miles (3.2 km) and a variety of attractions and activities for visitors. The town centre has a mix of old and modern buildings, with several historic landmarks such as the Grand Pier, the Winter Gardens Pavilion, and the Birnbeck Pier. Westons main attraction is its beach, which is backed by a wide promenade and a range of amenities such as cafes, restaurants, and shops. The Grand Pier is a popular destination for families, with a variety of fairground rides, arcade games, and attractions. The town also has several parks and green spaces, including the 12-acre Grove Park, which has a children's play area, a boating lake, and a miniature railway. Other popular parks include Clarence Park and Ashcombe Park, both of which offer picturesque settings for picnics and walks. Weston is well connected with the M5 motorway running nearby and regular train services to Bristol, Bath, and other major cities. The town also has its own railway station, which is located within walking distance of the town center and the beach.
