HISTORY

The family wishes to draw your attention to the history of their previous home, which is truly a special part of its character. During the war, it served as a warden's house, and you can still see the original warden's plaque proudly displayed on the front wall. At the back of the property, a genuine air-raid shelter remains, a unique piece of history. This home's historical significance has not gone unnoticed and has previously drawn the attention of Bristol Heritage. The family chose to remain in the property at the time, but the fact it drew such attention speaks volumes about its unique story and place in the city's past, highlighting its rare character and contribution to the city's narrative, making it a piece of living history waiting to be cherished.

THE OPPORTUNITY

The property has been a much loved home for many years but now requires modernisation with scope for a charming 3 bedroom house for owner occupier or investment. There is scope to improve and increase the size of the rear elevation and attic conversion ( stp )

The garage at the rear may suit being demolished and used as a parking space or to increase the size of the garden.
