This well presented end of terrace house is situated in a popular area and benefits from well proportioned family accommodation. There are three bedrooms, two separate reception rooms, a kitchen, a rear porch/utility and a first floor bathroom with a second wc. The property is double glazed and this is complemented by gas fired heating. Externally there are enclosed gardens, a large single garage and the distinct bonus of parking facilities.

We are delighted to bring to market this characteristic end of terrace three bedroom property close to Redruth town centre with the benefit of both off-street parking and a large single garage. Built in 1910 and holding an elevated position above the town giving terrific views over towards the north coast of Cornwall, internally this three bedroom house features several high ceilings that certainly enhance the spacious living accommodation on offer. To the ground floor there are two reception rooms, used as a living room and a dining room by the current vendors. A galley style kitchen gives way to a rear porch that could be repurposed to a utility facility should the new owner so desire. To the first floor, two out of the three bedrooms are double whilst all three are complemented by a pleasant and spacious family bathroom with the added benefit of a further separate WC. Externally, a shared access lane from the street leads to the off street parking, with a gravel driveway complementing a large single garage with electric door opening and workshop come storage area. The rear garden also features a very nice, raised patio area that is positioned as such to fully benefit from the westerly views over towards the north coast of Cornwall. The property is very conveniently located, being around a half a mile walk or short drive into Redruth town centre which offers both independent and chain stores, cafes, a cinema and public houses. A main line railway station in the town gives links to London and bus services to Truro and Falmouth. Further afield, Portreath Beach on the north coast is within fifteen minutes drive as well as many other local beaches and attractions being nearby.
