Set back from the road, this detached bungalow offers well presented three bedroomed accommodation. There are two reception rooms and both the kitchen and bathroom have been refurbished in recent years. Heating is via an LPG system using a combination boiler and this is complemented by double glazed windows and doors. There are solar panels owned by the vendor and also a battery storage unit with a feedback system to the electric supplier. The property is generally well presented by the vendor and it is worthy of note that there is an original tiled floor running through the hallway. Externally there is side access providing parking and turning for probably four to five vehicles and there is also a good sized garage. The rear garden is laid to lawn, backs onto open land and has a raised patio area. There is also a summerhouse. Four Lanes village offers a post office/store, two public houses and bus services.
