Bigger, Brighter & Full of Surprises:-

Don't let the front fool you – this isn't your ordinary 1970s semi. Tucked away in a quiet cul de sac, enjoying a prime spot just a short stroll from the heart of town, this quirky, character-packed home is brimming with unexpected space, charm, and personality.

Step through the door into a welcoming hallway, and you'll immediately feel the difference. Double doors open into a sunlit sitting room, where a striking feature fireplace creates the perfect cosy centrepiece and doors open to the outdoor space. From the hall, the flow continues into a dining area ideal for family gatherings and dinner parties. The stylish, surprisingly roomy kitchen features soft-closing units, some integrated appliances, and a breakfast bar for those quick coffees and snacks. Need a quiet retreat or extra flexibility? There's also a study – or occasional bedroom – ready for working from home or welcoming guests. Upstairs, there are two good sized double bedrooms and a family bathroom with a bath and a shower – but it's outside where this home really wows.

The south facing garden is far bigger than you'd expect – beautifully laid out with plenty of space to entertain, unwind, or simply breathe. A generous sun terrace is perfect for summer evenings, and the whole space is edged by a charming brook – yes, you can even pull on your wellies and wade right up to the shops!

With plenty of scope to add your own style and a location that's a short walk to local amenities and only a few minutes drive from Sherborne's historic streets and architecture, this home is quirky, special, and full of potential.

It's not just a house – it's a discovery. You have to step inside to really see the difference.
