Honeyfield Farm comprises a detached period farmhouse which has been updated over recent years to provide comfortable family accommodation, along with the flexibility to utilise two letting rooms if required, for either Airbnb or private residential use. The property stands on the periphery of the popular Wye Valley village of Brockweir and is conveniently located to both the historic towns of Chepstow and Monmouth. Furthermore, the property benefits from 25 acres of grounds offering pastureland, extensive woodland with nature stream and a variety of outbuildings and a small barn.

The property briefly comprises to the ground floor; rear hallway, cloakroom/WC, family bathroom, attractive stair hallway with period tiling giving access to the updated kitchen and dining room, spacious living room with doors out to the conservatory. To the first floor, principal bedroom with large en-suite shower room, two further family bedrooms and guest cloakroom/WC and former letting bedroom now utilised as an additional family bedroom with en-suite shower room.

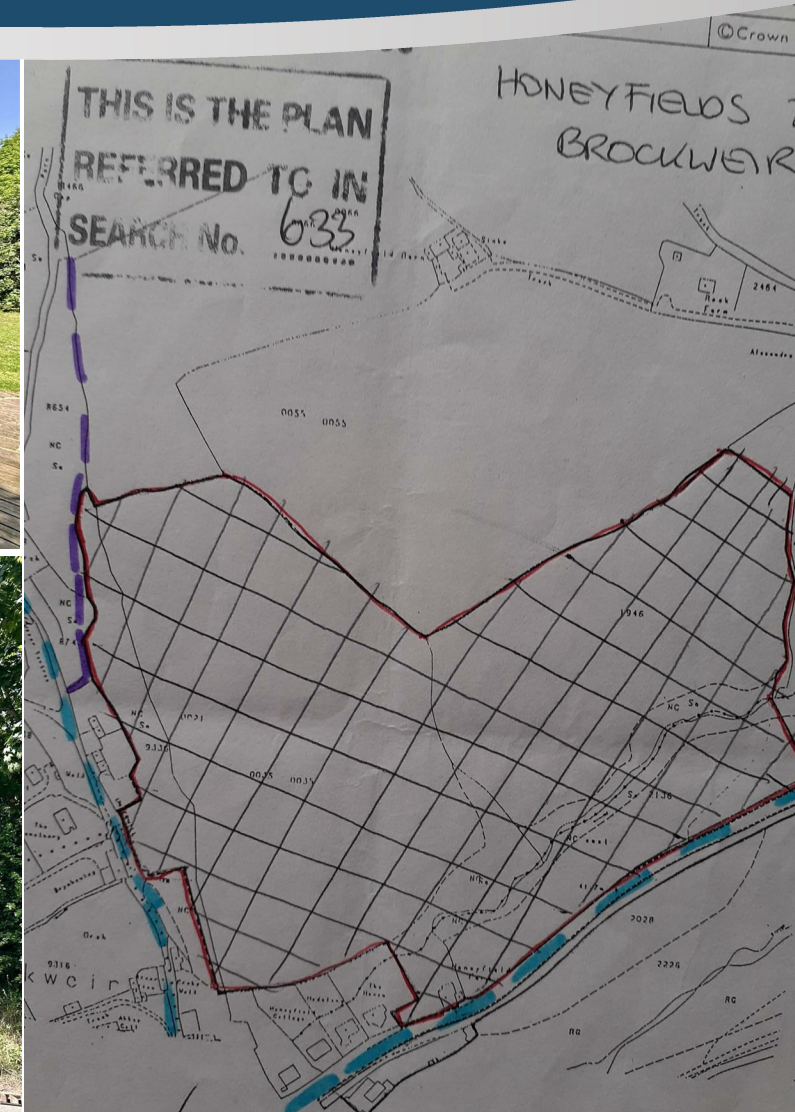

OUTSIDE

GARDENS AND GROUNDS

The property stands in its own pretty formal gardens benefiting from lawn to the rear with fishpond, raised decked area with steps down to lower lawn and woodland. To the side of the house, a five-bar gate leads to a gravel parking area with an additional range of outbuildings. The grounds themselves are believed to approach approximately 25 acres with extensive woodland area, attractive natural stream and large and useful paddock areas of approximately 10 acres in total.
