Pwllmeyric House comprises a spacious detached three storey family home of considerable character and charm, believed to be one of the oldest properties within this popular village. This much loved accommodation offers potential for updating and extension, if required. The property currently affords to the ground floor: large entrance hall with attractive period panelling, spacious drawing room, formal dining room, good size family kitchen and bathroom whilst to the first floor are three double bedrooms and cloakroom/WC, along with two further large rooms to the attic floor. The property also benefits from a large attached garage/workshop, and a large room above the kitchen, which offers scope for further accommodation, if required, subject to necessary planning consent.

The property stands in attractive gardens with parking to the front, mature borders and charming enclosed garden to the rear. Viewing is highly recommended.

Pwllmeyric is a popular village located approximately 1 mile from the historic town of Chepstow, thus offering easy access to local schools, shopping and other amenities, as well as road access to the M48 motorway, bringing Cardiff and Bristol within commuting distance. Good rail links are found in Newport and nearby Bristol Parkway.

Monmouthshire is a very sought-after county offering both convenience and beautiful countryside.
