SITUATION

Tan Cottage is situated in Plympton St Maurice and is tucked away down a small lane, off Fore Street. This charming village is on the edge of the Stannary town of Plympton and is one of the oldest settlements in the area. The village itself is steeped in history and enjoys events and festivals including the 'Lamb's Feast' which is held annually on Castle Green. The village is also protected by the Civic Association which takes a proactive approach to conservation. The surrounding area also benefits from St Maurice Guildhall and church as well as the motte and bailey castle at Castle Green, and moving on into Pathfields which is an historic pathway originally running from Plympton through to Tavistock.
