YOLLAND BARN, DOWN THOMAS, PL9 0DY

SITUATION

Yolland Barn is one of 14 high quality properties which have been converted from 'show' barns in the early 1990s. The development is approached via a private road and is situated within the former grounds of the historic Langdon Court, which was mentioned in the Domesday Book and with many notable owners including the Marquis of Exeter and subsequently Catherine Parr in 1564. The barn itself has attractive stone elevations beneath a slated roof and is superbly presented with much character. The development is conveniently located close to local amenities in both Wembury, Down Thomas and Plymstock, and Plymouth city centre is only six miles away. The scenic South West coast path is only a mile away and has been designated as a site of special scientific interest being part of the Wembury conservation area acquired by The National Trust.
