

A handsome bay-fronted Victorian terrace, positioned on one of the area's most sought-after residential streets, within easy walking distance of the University campus and Sol Joel Park. Well-maintained and retaining period character, the three-bedroom house retains original features, including fireplaces, exposed floorboards and generous proportions throughout. The ground floor unfolds across two separate reception rooms, with a bright living room leading to a separate dining room, both centred around original fireplaces. To the rear, a spacious kitchen and breakfast room opens through double doors onto a west-facing garden, creating an effortless connection between inside and out. Upstairs, three well-proportioned bedrooms are served by a family bathroom, while the house is offered to the market with no onward chain. The location combines a peaceful residential setting with excellent connectivity. The A329(M) is easily accessible, while frequent bus services provide convenient links to Reading town centre. Earley station is within walking distance, offering services to Reading, London Paddington via the Elizabeth Line, and London Waterloo. Everyday amenities are close at hand, with local shops on Wokingham Road and more extensive retail facilities at Woodley, Lower Earley and Reading town centre. A selection of well-regarded primary and secondary schools is also within easy reach. The street enjoys a strong sense of community, supported by an active residents' association, and was voted Reading's Best Street in 2019.
