

Tucked away on the edge of Reading town centre, St Saviours Terrace is a distinguished row of Victorian townhouses characterised by elegant brickwork and south-facing front gardens. Positioned within easy walking distance of the River Kennet, The Oracle and the station, the setting balances period charm with urban convenience. This two-bedroom home is thoughtfully arranged, with a cosy sitting room overlooking the garden, complete with a period fireplace. To the rear, a generous kitchen and dining space creates the heart of the home, alongside a ground floor bathroom. Upstairs, there are two well-proportioned double bedrooms. Offered to the market with no onward chain.
