

This thoughtfully extended two-bedroom house has been reworked to create a light and open interior, with a layout that sets it apart from its neighbours. The main living space opens across the rear of the house, where a full-width extension has created a generous open-plan kitchen and living area. A large rooflight draws natural light deep into the room, adding to its bright and airy character. At the front of the house is a separate clearly defined space, presently arranged as a home office but equally suited to use as a dining room. A modern bathroom and separate utility area complete the ground floor. Upstairs are two bedrooms and a separate WC. The house is offered with no onward chain, allowing for a potentially straightforward move.
