Space is available for a washing machine, and integrated appliances include an electric oven, gas hob with extractor, fridge and a stainless steel sink.

The bedroom is a generous double, featuring picture rails, high ceilings and a useful built-in double wardrobe. A window to the easterly-facing elevation provides pleasant views over Cromwell Road and beyond.

Location

Welcome to St. Andrew's, where a distinct urban bohemian character meets a strong sense of community. With Gloucester Road on its western edge, you'll have an array of charming independent cafes, restaurants, pubs, and shops readily available.

This isn't just a place to live; it's a vibrant community. Street parties and events, organized by local businesses and groups, are a common occurrence, fostering a truly exciting and connected atmosphere.

At the heart of it all is St. Andrew's Park. This cherished green space on a grassy slope provides a peaceful refuge from city life. Whether it's for a picnic, a local concert, or fun at the adventure playground and paddling pool, the park is a highly valued amenity and a source of local pride.

The majority of homes here are 19th-century builds. While some have been thoughtfully converted into apartments, attracting young professionals, the un-converted single residences are highly sought-after. The grander homes surrounding the park and the charming terraces close to excellent primary schools are particularly coveted, making St. Andrew's a truly fashionable and desirable Bristol neighbourhood.
