The sitting room is set to the front of the house and offers a spacious and light-filled room which works equally well for entertaining as it does for quiet relaxation. A further wood burning stove in the sitting room creates a warming focal point. The kitchen is set to the rear of the house, leading open-plan to a fabulous light-filled garden room. Fitted shaker style units provide ample storage and a stylish Elan Range cooker and wooden worktops, provide plentiful preparation and cooking space. A lantern ceiling lends a sense of space to the garden room and fills the room with natural light. Double doors lead from the garden room to a raised decking area, providing the perfect spot for summer entertaining or a quiet morning coffee whilst soaking up the valley views. Three bedrooms are located on the first floor, together with a family bathroom. All of the bedrooms benefit from village and valley views.

A good-sized shed provides ample storage and further storage is available via an access door underneath the kitchen. Parking for several cars is available at the front of the house.

LOCATION

Often referred to as the Queen of the Cotswolds, Painswick is a quintessentially charming Cotswold village. Steeped in history, the village offers all that is best about Cotswold living; a thriving and welcoming community with an abundance of local events, two pubs, village shops and several cafes. There is a boutique hotel a short walk from Abbots Leigh, offering fine-dining to non-residents and several stylish and independent coffee shops. For sporting enthusiasts, there is a golf course on nearby Painswick Beacon and stunning countryside for riding and cycling.

One of the key draws to the area is the excellent choice of schools with sought after grammar schools in Stroud, Gloucester and Cheltenham and a broad choice of schools in the private sector. School buses run from the centre of the village to most of the local schools and there is also a popular village primary school within walking distance of Abbots Leigh.

Stroud is the nearest town with excellent facilities including a Waitrose supermarket plus several other leading supermarkets, a multiplex cinema and award winning Saturday Farmers Market. Nearby Cheltenham offers excellent shopping, dining and theatre and is well-known for its annual jazz and literature festivals, as well as its National Hunt racecourse.

Well placed for commuting, Painswick is circa 90 minutes to London by train from nearby Stroud mainline station and approximately 20 minutes drive to Cheltenham and Gloucester. The M5 motorway is also within easy reach, for commuting to Bristol and the Midlands.
