DESCRIPTION

Conveniently situated on Bisley Road in the award winning town of Stroud, this fine Edwardian semi-detached house offers a delightful blend of period features and modern living. Built in the early 1900s, the property spans an impressive 1,389 square feet and is tastefully presented throughout, making it an ideal family home.

Upon entering, you are welcomed into a well planned reception hall. The spacious and light-filled living areas are perfect for both relaxation and entertaining. The house boasts two intercommunicating inviting reception rooms, providing ample space for family gatherings or quiet evenings in. The three generously sized double bedrooms ensure comfort for all, with the master bedroom benefiting from an en-suite shower room for added convenience.

The property also features a well-appointed main bathroom, catering to the needs of a busy household. A standout feature of this home is the purpose-built studio or office, offering a versatile space that can be tailored to your personal needs, whether it be for work, hobbies, or creative pursuits.

One of the highlights of this residence is the superb south-facing views towards the River Severn, allowing you to enjoy the beauty of the surrounding landscape. The outdoor space offers well maintained gardens that provide a tranquil retreat, as well as a garage for secure parking or additional storage.

Located within easy reach of Stroud's excellent amenities, this property combines the charm of Edwardian architecture with the practicality of modern living. This is a wonderful opportunity to acquire a beautiful home in a sought-after area, perfect for those looking to enjoy both comfort and convenience.

DIRECTIONS

LOCATION

Stroud is a great town to live in; Bisley Road is especially popular as it enjoys easy access to the town centre and lovely views. Quirky and unconventional, it very much has its own character, developed from a long heritage based on the manufacture of cloth, on which the Cotswolds' prosperity was founded in the 17th and 18th centuries. Together with its award-winning Farmers' Market, eclectic mix of independent retailers plus major supermarkets including Waitrose, the town also has a lively music and arts scene, provincial theatre, multiplex cinema and a leisure centre.

From its mainline station it is possible to be in London (Paddington) from circa 90 minutes and access to the M5 motorway (Bristol/West Midlands) is easy. The town has both Boys and Girls grammar schools as well as other good secondary schools and an adult education college. It is surrounded by glorious countryside offering dramatic views with large areas of National Trust Common land nearby, free for anyone to enjoy.
