DESCRIPTION

Forming part of the historical Stanley Park, known for the destination of the pioneering Oxford Balloonist, James Sadler on the first ever flight from Stroud on 19th October 1785, Stable Cottage sits tucked away between two other Grade II Listed homes with off street parking to the front and a detached garage with garden and roof terrace above.

Surprisingly light and spacious, the property retains a real charm with features typical of its era including Cotswold Stone fireplaces, window seats and exposed beams. The heart of the home is for sure the kitchen/dining room with a range of built in units and fireplace (currently housing a gas fired stove). A utility/cloakroom is located off the kitchen together with access to a rear terrace overlooking the ground beyond. Opposite the kitchen the spacious sitting room offers a welcoming reception space with an open fire offering a focal point. On the first floor there are three bedrooms one with built in wardrobes and another with an en-suite shower, together with the family bathroom.

Parking for 2/3 cars is available immediately to the front of Stable Cottage with a useful garage opposite. The gardens and roof terrace are located in an elevated setting above and beyond the garage offering a wonderful entertaining space to enjoy views of both the historical homes and Selsley Common.

DIRECTIONS

From our Stroud Office proceed towards the M5 motorway and at the roundabout opposite Sainsburys take the 'Scenic Route' up the hill (B4066) to Selsley. At the first fork in the road, turn right towards Middleyard and Kings Stanley. As the road bends to the left the entrance to Stanley Park can be found on the right hand side. Drive through the first arch and turn immediately left where the property can be found on the right hand side.

LOCATION

The historical complex known as Stanley Park is situated close to the market town of Stroud, between Cheltenham and Bristol. Under the cusp of Selsley Common, it has a dramatic setting with acres of natural countryside as a backdrop and the Cotswold Way, renowned for miles of scenic walks, on its doorstep.

Selsley is a popular village and has an excellent pub and is perfectly located for commuting long distance by road or rail. It is within 10 minutes of Junction 13 of the M5 motorway while from Stroud Station, trains into London Paddington are scheduled from 90 minutes. As a regional 'hub' Stroud has a Waitrose superstore and four other major supermarkets, an award winning weekly Farmers' Market, multi-plex Cinema, leisure centre and an eclectic range of independent retailers.

Locally there is an excellent choice of schools including Stroud High, Marling (both Grammar schools) and Wycliffe College.
