An impressive stone-built four-bedroom semi-detached family home, skilfully extended to provide spacious accommodation arranged over three floors. Occupying a prime position in the highly sought-after village of Hathersage, the property combines charming period features with well-presented living spaces, together with off-road parking and an attractive, enclosed rear courtyard garden.

The accommodation retains character, with an inviting entrance porch leading into a charming sitting room featuring a bay window and a rustic brick fireplace housing a log-burning stove. Double doors open into the dining room, which enjoys a further feature fireplace and built-in storage, leading through to a fitted kitchen with a range of units and appliances. A separate utility area and cloakroom complete the ground floor.

The first-floor landing incorporates a useful study area and provides access to two double bedrooms and a luxurious family bathroom, with a freestanding bath and separate shower. The second floor offers two further bedrooms, providing versatile accommodation for family living, guests or home working.

Externally, a driveway to the front provides secure off-road parking. To the rear, an enclosed and easily maintained courtyard garden offers a delightful outdoor space, with a paved seating terrace, established planted beds and a useful garden store.

Hathersage is one of the Peak District's most sought-after villages, renowned for its stunning surrounding countryside and excellent range of local amenities. The village offers independent shops, cafés, traditional public houses, a primary school, a swimming pool and a railway station, providing direct links to Sheffield and Manchester. With an abundance of walking and outdoor pursuits on the doorstep, Hathersage offers an appealing balance of village life and access to the surrounding Peak District National Park.
