Architect-Designed Three-Bedroom Home – Quirky, Sustainable, and Award-Winning

If you're looking for something truly extraordinary, this standout three-bedroom home is a rare find – full of personality, cutting-edge design, and functional flair. Just twelve years old and recipient of architectural acclaim, the property spans four cleverly planned levels and boasts over 1,579 sq ft of light-filled living space.

At its heart is a spectacular open-plan kitchen/lounge on the ground floor, stretching an impressive 38 feet in length, crowned by a dramatic double-height exposed brick wall and overhead Velux windows that flood the space with natural light. A stylish ground floor WC and welcoming hallway add to the practical layout.

The first floor offers a spacious principal bedroom with a modern family bathroom, while the second floor presents two further bedrooms—one particularly generous in size—along with a second contemporary bathroom. At the top, the fourth level houses a large loft room (13'7" x 14'0"), perfect as a creative studio, home office, or additional lounge/entertainment space.

Outside, the charm continues with a beautifully landscaped front garden, complete with decked seating and colourful flower beds—your private haven in the city. Sustainability is at the core of this home, which features solar panels, underfloor heating, an allocated parking space, and its own electric vehicle charging point.

Ideally situated close to Endcliffe Park, Bingham Park, and the Botanical Gardens, and just minutes from the vibrant energy of Ecclesall Road's cafés, shops, and restaurants—this is lifestyle living at its best.

A one-of-a-kind home for those who love design, nature, and urban convenience.
