Character Farmhouse, Substantial Outbuildings and 86 Acres.

Nestled in a sheltered and private position on the outskirts of the picturesque village of Rhosygwalia, Bala, this remarkable character residence offers a unique opportunity to own a substantial 3/4 bedroom farmstead set within a tranquil and secluded environment. Spanning approximately 86 acres, the property boasts a diverse landscape that includes excellent grazing/cropping meadows, mountain land and woodland and the property enjoys extensive river frontage and fishing rights.

The property features a substantial range of traditional detached farm buildings, ideally suited for housing livestock, for equine use or indeed offering scope, subject to planning, for a number of other uses including possibilities within the tourist industry and attached to the main residence is the former stables and granary which offer the opportunity to extend the property substantially if required.

In summary, this farmstead in Rhosygwalia is not just a home; it is a lifestyle choice that combines the tranquillity of rural living with the potential for business opportunities. With its expansive land, traditional buildings, and stunning natural surroundings, this property is a rare find, the viewing of which is highly recommended.

LOCATION

The property occupies a private and peaceful location on the outskirts of the hamlet of Rhosygwalia and is accessed from a quiet lane off the B4391 from Bala. The area is renowned for its completely unspoiled countryside and breath-taking views. The nearby town of Bala is approximately 3 miles distant and is extremely popular within the tourist industry with its lake and scenic surroundings. The town provides an excellent selection of shopping, schooling and leisure facilities and is within the Snowdonia National Park. The nearby A5 provides excellent communications for the larger centres of Wrexham and Chester.
