I fell in love with this flat the moment I stepped into the bright, open living room and sunny balcony. It was one of those rare moments where you just know, this was going to be home. I did all I could to make that happen and moved in 3 months later.

Since then, I have enjoyed hosting, relaxing and even teaching yoga classes in the large living room, with its high ceilings and windows above making it perfect for unwinding and recharging or socialising, sunbathing with my friends and loved ones on the south facing balcony, stargazing from the beautiful high double wrapped outside area and hosting many a brunch, dinner party and afternoon tea here!

One of the things that first stole my heart was the balcony, which like a tree house in the sense that you can enjoy birds singing in the afternoon and looking out to the treetops in the morning and afternoon sunshine. The balcony is a natural suntrap and it often feels like summer on there, when its just a cool sunny day below!

Despite its private and quiet location, the apartment is very well-connected. Maidenhead town centre and train station with Elizabeth Line direct to London for a change of scene close by, with the M4 and M40 easily accessible for commuting or weekend getaways. There's a very handy supermarket (which I like to see as being an extension of my fridge), high street and a parade of shops cafes and restaurants including Tapas bars, Coppa food and bar chain, Sauce and Flour Italian, Fat Buddah, Bombay Story and even a Chocolate Cafe to name but a few, just a short walk away, while charming towns like Cookham and Marlow are only a short drive when you fancy a change of pace and the riverside and Boulters lock a short walk away too, just a few examples of the variety of options and fun at the doorstep of this apartment! I have enjoyed country walks in Pinkney's Green and open water swimming and paddle boarding at the stunning Bray Lake as well as sunshine terrace drinks at The beautiful Boathouse Bar and eatery in Boulters lock.

This apartment has been a stunning home and a place filled with sunshine, laughter, and yoga. The community club is 5 mins walk away.

I have felt truly at home here, but my needs have changed due to my work location and it's time for a new adventure and story within these walls.
