Property Details

A stunning two bedroom end of terrace garden flat with its own front door on the well-located Strathleven Road, equidistant to Clapham and Brixton. From the moment you step through the private entrance, this larger than average flat feels like a true home. The spacious reception room is bathed in sunlight from a large South-facing bay window and features high ceilings and space to accommodate a dining table. The kitchen enjoys the same sunny aspect, with generous storage options. Keeping the laundry neatly tucked away, a designated utility room feeds off the kitchen. The principal bedroom is a large double with built in wardrobes and characterful features including sash bay windows. Still a genuine double, the second bedroom sits at the opposing end of the property, ideal for sharers or those requiring a home office overlooking the garden, akin to how this versatile room is currently configured. The bathroom is in a central position, equipped with both shower and bath. Planning permission is approved to reconfigure the layout should the new owner desire. The garden is a generously proportioned sun trap with the configuration of the surrounding buildings ensuring a particularly private outside space, with side access ideal for bikes.
