Dorchester, the county town of Dorset, is a vibrant historic market town that blends rich heritage with modern amenities. Known for its Roman origins and literary links to Thomas Hardy, the town, and the fabulous Brewery Square, offers a wide range of shops, caf  s, restaurants, and cultural attractions such as the Dorset Museum and the Keep Military Museum. Dorchester benefits from excellent travel links, with two railway stations providing direct services to London Waterloo, Bristol, and Weymouth, as well as good road connections via the A35 and A37. The surrounding areas include picturesque villages, rolling countryside, and the nearby Jurassic Coast, a UNESCO World Heritage Site offering stunning coastal walks and beaches. Residents and visitors also enjoy access to leisure centres, schools, parks, and weekly markets, making Dorchester and its surroundings an attractive place to live and explore.

Approaching the property, a good-sized private driveway, offering comfortable parking for multiple cars, sits adjacent to a lawned area with mature trees and shrubs, with a path leading to the part-glazed door. Stepping inside through the front porch, an opening leads into a handy cloakroom and larder area. A further door provides entry into the kitchen. The well-equipped kitchen is complete with a wealth of cupboard storage and dedicated spaces for appliances, includes space for a six-ring gas hob and range set-up. Adjacent to the kitchen is a bright dining room, offering a lovely space for family meals or entertaining, whilst further benefits from storage underneath the stairs. Moving through the home and accessed from the hallway, is the living room, which serves as a cosy retreat centred around a gas fireplace and benefits from additional storage and double doors that offer direct access to the garden.

The spacious hallway opens into a versatile space, creating a nook that is perfectly suited to a study desk beside the stairs. Ascending to the first floor, this level accommodates three double bedrooms and the bathroom. The principal and second bedrooms enjoy a rear aspect, while the third bedroom overlooks the front garden. A family bathroom serves this floor, featuring a panel-enclosed bath with an overhead shower, a wash hand basin, w/c, a radiator, and an extractor fan. A convenient airing cupboard on the landing completes the internal accommodation.

The exterior properties of the home are equally impressive. A secure side gate grants direct access to the rear garden, which is beautifully arranged with a patio area abutting the property, a well-kept central lawn, and an additional elevated patio area tucked away at the very rear to capture the sun throughout the day. The property also boasts excellent outdoor storage, including a shed at the front and two further sheds located in the rear garden.
