Maes-Yr-Hedydd Llanfihangel-Ar-Arth, Near Llandysul, SA39 9JY

Offers In The Region Of £875,000

A rare opportunity to acquire an exceptional 9.4-acre West Wales smallholding, enjoying a wonderfully private setting with no near neighbours and offering the perfect combination of character, comfort and rural freedom. The property comprises a beautifully extensively renovated stone farmhouse, complemented by a detached & fully renovated annexe, recently re-roofed & ideal for multi-generational living or potential holiday letting, together with an impressive, EPC B rating for energy-efficient & low cost country living. An excellent range of useful recently re-roofed outbuildings provides scope for workshops, storage, agricultural or equestrian use, whilst approximately 9.4 acres of productive and highly usable land is ideally suited to grazing, cropping or horses. Delightful established gardens create a true wildlife haven, completing what is a highly desirable and increasingly rare turnkey West Wales lifestyle property offering privacy, versatility and an enviable connection with the surrounding countryside.

Location

The property occupies an enviable and wonderfully private rural setting, approached along a private track on the outskirts of Llanfihangel-ar-Arth. With no near neighbours, it enjoys a delightful elevated aspect overlooking the surrounding rolling countryside, with far-reaching rural views creating a wonderful sense of space and tranquillity.

The setting is a particular feature of the property, offering an exceptional degree of privacy and seclusion and providing a peaceful haven away from the hustle and bustle of everyday life. Surrounded by the beautiful West Wales countryside, it represents an increasingly rare opportunity for those seeking peace, privacy and an idyllic rural lifestyle, whilst remaining within convenient travelling distance of nearby towns and everyday amenities.

For equestrian enthusiasts, the property is particularly well positioned to take advantage of the extensive riding opportunities available within the nearby Brechfa Forest. Its network of forest tracks, trails and quiet routes provides excellent opportunities for outriding through some of Carmarthenshire's most attractive countryside, making the location especially appealing to those seeking an equestrian or country lifestyle.

Llanfihangel-ar-Arth is an attractive and traditional rural village pleasantly positioned within the beautiful Teifi Valley, close to the Carmarthenshire/Ceredigion border. Surrounded by rolling countryside, the village enjoys a peaceful rural setting whilst remaining conveniently placed for the nearby Teifi Valley town of Llandysul, which offers a good range of everyday amenities, shops, schooling, leisure facilities, public houses and services.

The area is particularly well suited to those seeking a quieter country lifestyle without being overly isolated, with the university town of Lampeter and county town of Carmarthen both within comfortable travelling distance. The renowned Cardigan Bay coastline, with its picturesque seaside towns and sandy beaches, is also readily accessible.

Description

A rare opportunity to acquire an exceptional 9.4-acre lifestyle smallholding, occupying an enviable elevated position at the end of a private track with no near neighbours, offering complete privacy, seclusion and breathtaking views over the surrounding countryside.

At the heart of the holding is a charming traditional farmhouse, sympathetically enhanced by a substantial two-storey extension, providing spacious and characterful family accommodation. The property has undergone extensive renovation and improvement in recent years, including new roofs, upgraded insulation to the walls, floors and loft, and triple glazing throughout both the farmhouse and annexe, with considerable attention given to creating an energy-efficient, future-proof home with impressively low running costs. The quality of the refurbishment is further reflected internally by bespoke oak doors throughout, whilst all bathrooms and shower rooms have been thoughtfully designed with low-profile, accessible fittings for ease of use. This is further enhanced by an array of 30 solar panels together with a substantial 10kW battery storage system, allowing the property to maximise its use of renewable energy.

Complementing the main residence is a detached one-bedroom annexe, full of character and offering an excellent degree of flexibility for multi-generational living, guest accommodation or holiday letting potential, with the ability to accommodate several additional guests if required. The annexe has also benefited from the property's programme of energy-efficiency improvements, including triple glazing, whilst having its own recently installed high-specification gas-fired central heating system.

The property is further complemented by an excellent range of versatile outbuildings, including workshops and Dutch barns offering excellent storage and considerable potential for equestrian use or stabling, subject to individual requirements. Set within approximately 9.4 acres of excellent, largely level and highly usable land, the holding is well suited to grazing livestock, cropping or a variety of other smallholding and equestrian pursuits. Beautifully landscaped gardens surround the residence, creating a superb outdoor environment for relaxation and entertaining.

This outstanding smallholding combines an idyllic rural setting with versatile accommodation, excellent outbuildings and productive land, whilst its extensive programme of renovation and investment in renewable and energy-efficient technology provides a particularly attractive proposition for purchasers seeking a comfortable, sustainable and future-proof country home with minimal running costs.

The farmhouse benefits from air source central heating, together with underfloor heating throughout the ground floor and to part of the first floor, whilst the annexe has underfloor heating to the ground floor and its own recently installed high-specification gas-fired central heating system. Altogether, the property is perfectly suited to those seeking a country lifestyle, equestrian interests, hobby farming, multi-generational living, home business opportunities or simply a peaceful retreat in the heart of the West Wales countryside.
