Ingleside & Ingleneuk

Ingleside & Ingleneuk,

Ayton, TD14 5QJ

Offers Over £420,000

Ingleside and Ingleneuk; A rare opportunity for a multi use residential property; a sizeable period family home with adjoining ground floor apartment - perfect for multi generational living or for those seeking to generate an income stream

This charming period property offers far more than first impressions suggest, combining a substantial family home, Ingleside, with a well-appointed adjoining ground-floor apartment, Ingleneuk. Together, they present a highly versatile opportunity—ideal for multi-generational living, guest accommodation, or generating rental income. Alternatively, the two can be seamlessly combined to create one impressive, expansive home.

Both properties connect to a beautiful walled garden at the rear which basks in sunlight for much of the day- fully secure and private this is a lovely space with a detached single garage and parking space off Beanburn.

Ingleside has been a much loved family home for many years; enjoying a lovely blend of period charm together with modern upgrades to ensure comfort and functionality. The large extension to the rear has created a valuable and very sociable family dining kitchen which has direct access to the gardens beyond. This multi use space is perfect for modern day living and really is the hub of this family home. For a quieter, more relaxed environment the traditional lounge to the front with feature fireplace provides a cosy space.

The bedroom accommodation off the upper landing is highly versatile; currently providing five double rooms with the master benefitting from a smart en-suite shower room. One of the remaining bedrooms has an adjoining dressing room or office if preferred, whilst the large room overlooking the garden could easily offer an alternative use as an additional living room if desired. The main family shower room has been thoughtfully re-fitted with modern wet wall panelling and large walk in shower.

Inglenuek offers ground level living, and whilst it connects to the shared rear garden, it also benefits from its own independent access from street level. With generous proportions, the accommodation is well suited to extended family, as a granny annex or would provide excellent rental potential. The lounge to the front enjoys a pleasant village aspect, with a large double bedroom next door; a sunny breakfasting kitchen overlooking the garden and an upgraded shower room. A rear door gives access to a lean-to style greenhouse which leads to the garden, and a useful utility space.
