Whaley Bridge, the "Gateway to the Goyt Valley" is an attractive small town situated on the edge of the Peak District. The town is at the head of the Peak Forest Canal which offers pleasant walks and cycle tracks to Bridgemount and Buxworth or can be the starting point for longer distance routes such as the Goyt Valley and Midshires Way. There is a wonderful array of local pubs, restaurants and cafes, which can be found in the town along with a number of independent shops selling a fine selection of wines, food and gifts. Close to the A6 the town is accessible to Stockport and Manchester. The railway station is on the Piccadilly to Buxton line.
