A Stunning Transformation – From Village Public House to Distinctive Family Homes

This beautifully executed conversion of a former village public house has created three substantial and characterful family residences, each crafted to an exacting specification. Offering a unique blend of traditional charm and modern comfort, these homes are ideally suited for families seeking space, style, and a strong sense of community.

Location – Middleton, Leicestershire/Northamptonshire Border

Nestled in the picturesque Welland Valley, Middleton is a highly sought-after village on the border of Leicestershire and Northamptonshire. It shares a close-knit community spirit with the neighbouring village of Cottingham, where residents enjoy a wide array of amenities including:

A welcoming public house

A polo club with the popular 'Safari' Bar

A community-run village store and coffee house

A historic parish church dating back to the 14th century

A vibrant village hall hosting regular events

The Jurassic Way, a long-distance walking route from Stamford to Banbury, is conveniently accessible directly opposite the property, making this location ideal for countryside walks and outdoor exploration.

The property is perfectly positioned between the charming market towns of Uppingham and Market Harborough, each offering boutique shops, independent cafes, restaurants, and regular farmers' and international markets. For more extensive amenities, Corby is nearby, boasting an international swimming pool, theatre, pedestrian shopping centre, and multiple supermarkets.
