Description

Families, Investors and Developers.

A very rare opportunity to purchase this substantial period home with exceptionally spacious accommodation approaching 4000 square foot naturally arranged over 4 floors and situated in the sought after Surbiton Hill Park Conservation Area moments from Surbiton Railway Station. This impressive listed building provides vast accommodation throughout and features grand rooms with tall ornate moulded ceilings capturing an abundance of light from large sash windows, many of the principle rooms also retain the striking original fireplaces. Presently this fine home is arranged into bedsits and has previously been granted HMO licences from the local authority, with some creative thought the property could be easily re-instated back to a magnificent family home and the self contained lower ground floor apartment could be resold separately or used as a granny annex. For investors, once modernised the rooms could generate a substantial monthly income from young professionals, given the proximity to Surbiton Station, which is just a 5 minute walk, accessed via a floodlight footpath just 100 yards from the property. For developers, a conversion into a multi flat scheme may well be possible, subject to the necessary consents and approvals. Externally there is an impressive 86' x 31' southerly aspect rear garden. Properties of this size and style retaining virtually all the original features are rarely available and therefore viewings, by appointment only, are highly recommended to fully appreciate what this incredible property has to offer.

NB. There are currently 4 valid EPC's on the property, our EPC reflects an average high and low score of the 4.
