Digbeth House, Digbeth Street

Stow-on-the-Wold, GL54 1BN

Digbeth House is a magnificent Grade II listed townhouse, with 5 bedrooms, situated in the heart of Stow-on-the-Wold.

Description

Digbeth House is a magnificent and deceptively spacious Grade II listed townhouse in the heart of Stow-on-the-Wold. Set discreetly on one of Stow's most historic streets, Digbeth House is an exceptional early 19th-century townhouse of rare character and scale. Beautifully renovated and arranged over three floors, it blends period detailing with contemporary craftsmanship, culminating in a spectacular vaulted 36-foot kitchen-dining room.

The front elevation presents a refined combination of part-rendered and part-Cotswold stone walls, centred around an attractive bay window set upon a cut-stone plinth. Above sit two 4-pane sash windows framed by cut-stone reveals, all beneath a slate roof punctuated by two gabled dormer windows. The more substantial side elevation is constructed entirely of natural Cotswold stone, with traditional casement windows set beneath a part-tiled, part-slate roofline.

The accommodation is arranged principally over three floors, complemented by a single storey, impressive, vaulted kitchen-dining room, formerly the bakery workshop.

The house has been beautifully renovated to preserve its period character, with fireplaces, flagstone floors, panelling and display shelving. Contemporary living is introduced through the exceptional bespoke fitted kitchen, bathroom and en suite shower rooms, all fitted to a very exacting standard.

On the ground floor there is a very elegant drawing room leading to a comfortable and equally impressive snug and on to the kitchen/dining room. There are two vaulted cellars; one has been converted to a wine cellar and the other to a distinctive medieval style cellar bar.

On the first floor, there is a master bedroom with en suite shower room and separate walk-in dressing room, and two further bedrooms together with a traditional family bathroom.

On the second floor, the stairs lead to a guest bedroom with en suite shower room and a further bedroom with exposed beams and separate dressing area.

Location

Stow-on-the-Wold is a sought-after market town centred around the historic Parish Church of St Edward, offering an excellent range of independent shops, boutiques, cafés, pubs, and a well-regarded primary school.

Bourton-on-the-Water, just 4 miles away, provides additional amenities, including the highly regarded Cotswold School, a public sports centre, and a variety of shops and restaurants. Mainline rail services to London Paddington are available from Moreton-in-Marsh (4 miles) and Kingham (5 miles), with regular connections via Oxford and Reading.

Cheltenham, approximately 18 miles away, is the region's principal commercial and cultural centre, offering extensive shopping, excellent restaurants, the Everyman Theatre, and its internationally renowned festivals, including Literature, Music and National Hunt racing.

First Floor

Master Bedroom Suite

A beautiful principal bedroom featuring exposed ceiling beams, a casement window with an attractive window seat, and elegant part-panelled walls. Twin doors open into a well-appointed walk-in dressing room, fitted with a vanity unit, illuminated mirror, hanging rails, shelving, and dedicated shoe storage, providing excellent wardrobe space.

En Suite Shower Room

Elegantly presented, the en suite comprises a walk-in shower with a sliding glass door, large rainfall shower head and separate handheld attachment, complemented by tiled walls, a heated towel rail, wash hand basin, and high-level W.C. The room is enhanced by part-panelled walls, recessed ceiling spotlights, and a door providing additional access to the landing, creating a stylish and contemporary space.

Bedroom Two

Featuring an attractive corner fireplace with a wrought iron grate, decorative slate surround and Cotswold stone hearth, this delightful room is rich in period character. A traditional four-pane sash window provides excellent natural light, whilst an extensive range of built-in, adjustable book shelving enhances both its practicality and charm.

Bedroom Three

A charming and well-proportioned bedroom featuring elegant part-panelled walls, a sash window providing good natural light, and an attractive display niche. A versatile room, equally suited as a guest bedroom, children's room or home office.

Traditional Family Bathroom

Comprising a freestanding roll-top bath with mixer taps and shower attachment, heated towel rail, wash hand basin set within a recess, high-level W.C. and casement window. The room features part panelling and has been tastefully finished with quality fittings in keeping with the property's period character.

Second Floor

Guest Bedroom Suite (Bedroom 4)

A bright and generously proportioned guest bedroom enjoying far-reaching views across the Cotswold Hills. Character features include exposed ceiling beams and two pairs of traditional casement windows, whilst an extensive range of built-in, partly mirrored wardrobes provides excellent storage.

En suite Shower Room

The en suite comprises an Aqualisa shower within a glazed enclosure, tiled walls, a heated towel rail, low-level W.C., and a double vanity unit with twin wash hand basins and mixer taps. Exposed ceiling beams and a 17th-century casement window combine to create a distinctive blend of period charm and contemporary comfort.

Bedroom Five

A striking and characterful bedroom showcasing an impressive exposed timber A-frame, original purlins and structural timbers, creating a wonderful sense of period charm. Two traditional casement windows provide excellent natural light, whilst a separate dressing area offers flexibility and practicality. This generous room presents excellent potential to create an en suite bathroom, subject to any necessary consents, making it an ideal principal or guest suite.

Outside

Digbeth House enjoys a convenient frontage onto Digbeth Street, whilst to the rear is a delightful enclosed courtyard garden, accessed from both the kitchen/dining room and the drawing room. A particular feature of the property, this private and tranquil space provides a secluded retreat in the heart of the town. Beautifully enclosed by Cotswold stone walls and timber screening, the garden features a mature laurel tree, established wisteria adorning the house, a central timber arbour, stone fountain, and external lighting and power.

An attached brick outbuilding with a mono-pitched tiled roof houses the gas-fired central heating boiler. A door provides convenient direct pedestrian access to Fountain Court Arcade.

Garage

Situated a short walk away in Fox Lane is a garage with up and over door.
