Newlands Cottage

Stow-on-the-Wold, GL54 1EG

A semi-detached two bedroom house with good living space and a generous garden within walking distance to the town's square.

Description

Newlands Cottage is an attractive semi detached house constructed of rendered elevations under a tiled roof. It is believed to have originally been built in the 1930s and has been more recently extended at the rear with two single story extensions one of which forms part of the kitchen and the other forms part of the garden room and is built of part brick walls and a hip and tiled roof.

Newlands Cottage occupies an excellent position in the town, within a short walk of The Square as well as the Tesco supermarket. The house has excellent accommodation with three reception rooms, well fitted kitchen and cloakroom on the ground floor together with two double bedrooms and a bathroom on the first floor. There is an attached single garage together with further parking and a generous and well stocked garden, beautifully maintained and benefiting from an excellent vegetable garden supported by the greenhouse, potting and garden sheds.

Location

Stow-on-the-Wold is an attractive market town with the Parish Church of St. Edward, together with a wide variety of shops, boutiques, and hostleries. Bourton-on-the Water is 4 miles to the south and has a similar range of facilities. It also has the well-respected Cotswold secondary school and a public sports centre. There are mainline train stations situated at Moreton-in-Marsh (4 miles) and Kingham (5 miles) with regular services to London Paddington via Oxford and Reading.

Cheltenham (18 miles) is the principal commercial and cultural centre in the area and has excellent shopping facilities with most of the nationally known High Street retailers represented. It also has a wide number of hostleries, a multiplex cinema, and the Everyman Theatre, as well as a number of annual festivals including the National Hunt, Literature, Music, and Cricket festivals.
